

15,000,000 FOR ARMY ASKED BY SEC. BAKER

Tells of Plans for Increasing Country's Fighting Strength

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Simultaneously with the announcement that 233,000 men from 45 states had been called to join the army in May Secretary Baker indicated the scope of the government's plans for increasing its fighting strength, by stating that Congress had been asked to appropriate approximately $15,000,000 for the army for the next fiscal year. That amount is exclusive of funds provided in the appropriations bill which not only covers coast defenses but as a rule provides the bulk of heavy field ordnance. Last year the army estimates aggregated six billion and six hundred millions to pay for a force of 1,500,000 men who as already been exceeded. The call for a quarter of a million men during May goes to all states except California, Oregon and Nevada which with the District of Columbia already have supplied a large part of their quotas that it was decided not to include them this time. The movement in most states will begin May 25 and will be completed in five days. By this order the war department abandons its plan of assembling men in evenly monthly increments of approximately 100,000. Under the original program it was intended to call out not to exceed 860,000 additional men during 1918. The call for 150,000 in April and 223,000 this month will bring out in two months half the number originally contemplated for that it is officials make it clear that it is for the purpose to mobilize all the men for whom equipment and training facilities can be provided.

"Let us provide specific figures," Secretary Baker again said today. "They imply limits. There is no limit. We will call out enough men to make victory certain. We will call them as rapidly as they can be trained and sent forward."

In preparation for this tremendous increase in the army the house military committee was told today that every existing cantonment in the country will be enlarged and every national guard camp utilized to full capacity. It is regarded as probable that some new cantonments must be built in the interests of speed and economy of effort and material assurance will be placed upon expanding existing facilities. Ground has already been obtained in the vicinity of several cantonments for the expansion and details of the new construction are being worked out by the general staff which also is studying the necessity of a proper location for additional cantonments. In connection with the exclusion of three states from the May call, officials explained that an effort is being made to balance accounts among the various states preparatory to the application of the new quota basis when congress has approved that measure. The May draft allotments were made on the population basis heretofore used but subsequent division of quotas will be made when the number men furnished by any one state is computed from the number of available in Class One.

The men called out this month will be mobilized generally at the cantonments to which men from the same states have previously been sent. In many cases they will find the divisions originally created at those camps. Some of the camps will have been converted into replacement divisions and the new men will be redistributed in accordance with their qualifications after being inspected, rendered immune as possible from disease and furnished with the initial equipment.

Under the increased army plan a great number of new divisions may be created. With authority now asked for unlimited power to create fighting units, some of the men of the draft may be assigned to these new organizations. It is regarded as likely however that the April and May drafts will be used largely to fill up divisions at home while the seasoned personnel from those divisions is sent overseas to fill the gaps.

Since the number of divisions on the other side is rapidly and steadily increasing the flow of replacement troops must increase proportionately. A new draft of the annual appropriation bill providing for the needs of 3,000,000 men under the fifteen million dollar program will be laid before the house military committee when it reassembles next Monday. Secretary Baker, Major General March, chief of staff and other officers appeared today at the committee's executive session discussing the estimates to carry out the immediately foreseen war work.

Senator Sherman in an address to the senate said he could not support such a plan and that congress should fix the number of men.

Representative Dent of Alabama, chairman of the house committee to press his bill which would authorize an army of four million in addition to the 1,000,000 volunteers already in the service.

WAR SUMMARY

News of Activities On Various Battle Fronts in Summarized Form By Associated Press.

Having met with a reverse in the operations on the northern side of the Flanders salient where the French and British have stood shoulder to shoulder in defense of the Ypres and the high ground which forms a bulwark in front of the channel ports, the Germans have, as indicated by the most recent reports, turned to the southern side of the angle in the allied lines in northern France. On Thursday night and Friday the German artillery had seemingly centered its fire on the line between Givenchy and the Neippe Forest and it may be that the enemy soon will launch an attack against this vital section of the British line.

Articles appearing in German newspapers would seem to indicate efforts to prepare the German people for an announcement that there will be no immediate attempt to take Ypres. Experts, writing what may be considered inspired reviews of the situation say that nothing would be gained by the capture of the ruined city. This may mean that the Germans will turn their attention to some other part of the front for a new effort and the bombardment of the lines near Merville and further east may be the first step in an attempt either to bore straight thru the allied armies or cut thru toward the south and, force a British retirement from the Arras salient. So far as known no infantry fighting has occurred in this sector for the last day.

While waiting for the Germans to make the next move, the allies have not been idle. All along the line their patrols have been active and at Hangard and Villers-Bretonneux, before Amiens, they have taken tactical positions from the Teutons. One of these positions was hill 82, north of Castel, a height which afforded good observation of the allied communication lines. The British admiralty has found that the channel at Zeebrugge, in which old British cruisers recently were sunk during the naval raid on the German submarine base on the Belgian coast is still blocked and will probably remain so for a considerable time in spite of the efforts of the Teutons to dredge a new channel around the obstacles formed by the wrecks of the warships.

German troops operating in Ukraine have advanced into the Donetz coal region in the eastern part of the government of Khar'ev. The presence of Germans as far east as this would seem to indicate that Teutonic domination of southern Russia and the Black Sea is almost complete. The authority of General Foch, who recently designated commander-in-chief of the allied armies in France has been extended to include the forces on the Italian front as a result of the meeting of the inter-allied war council at Abbeville.

Illinois Assignments Today

Springfield, Ill., May 3.—Quotas assigned to Illinois exemption boards to complete the May draft, movement of which to cantonments will begin May 25, will be announced tomorrow. Adjutant General Dickson said tonight.

The contingent of the May quota to proceed to camp in the five day period beginning May 25 will comprise 18,519 white men and 760 negroes.

Destinations of the selectmen had not been announced tonight. The net quota of white men for Illinois under the May draft was 35,326 but 16,807 of this number already have been called.

Illinois gross quota for the May draft was 71,072 but credit was given for 34,540 men in the enlisted service, leaving a net total of 36,532 less deductions for men of the May draft already in camp.

All quotas of the May call were based on population because of the failure of congress to pass legislation basing quotas on the number of men in Class One.

NORWAY TO GET SUPPLIES FROM UNITED STATES

Commercial Agreement Reached With European Neutral

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Signing of a general commercial agreement between the United States and Norway the first agreement of the kind to be entered into by America with one of the North European neutrals was announced tonight by the war trade board.

Under the agreement Norway is assured of supplies to cover her estimated needs so far as they can be furnished without deferring the war needs of the United States and its associates and Norway on her part agrees to permit unhampered export to America and its allies of all Norwegian products not needed for home consumption.

It is provided that none of the supplies imported from the United States or its associates or forwarded with the aid of American bunker coal shall go directly or indirectly to the central powers or be used to replace commodities exported to those countries. This applies to anything produced by any auxiliaries to production obtained under the agreement. The agreement was signed by Vance C. McCormick, chairman of the war trade board and Dr. Fritjof Nansen the famous explorer on special mission to this country from Norway.

The agreement contains long schedules enumerating the quantities of foodstuffs, fodder, fertilizer, textiles, metals and minerals, rubber and miscellaneous commodities which Norway is entitled to receive. Norway is to furnish many things, including nitrates, iron ore, metals used in hardening special process steels, and other exports particularly for the allies. America's own requirements in the way of imports from Norway being relatively small.

It is of course provided that none of the supplies imported from the United States or its associates or forwarded by the aid of American bunker coal shall go directly or indirectly to any of the central powers to be used to replace commodities exported to those countries, says a statement by the war trade board announcing the agreement.

AGREE TO VOTE ON SEDITION BILL THIS AFTERNOON

Senate Spends Another Day of Attack On Measure

(By Associated Press)

Washington, May 3.—An agreement to vote at 4 o'clock tomorrow on the conference report on the sedition bill, penalizing disloyal acts and utterances was reached late today by the senate after another day of attack on features alleged to limit freedom of speech and extending the postmaster general's mail censorship powers.

Criticism of the measure was continued by several senators led by Senator Sherman of Illinois, Republican, who again assailed administration officials, including Attorney General Gregory and Secretary Baker.

The senator charged the attorney general with lacking vigor in prosecuting and with removing a Tennessee district attorney who was proceeding under the alien enemy law against Major E. B. Stahlman, publisher of the Nashville Banner.

Senator Sherman says laws already existing to punish such men as W. D. Haywood, the I. W. W. leader, and E. J. Townley, head of the non-partisan league, Haywood, he said had circulated literature "directly intended to hinder the government in the exercise of war power," while Townley "has uttered more seditious sentiment in the northwest than any I. W. W. out of Chicago."

Attacking Secretary Baker for an alleged statement in an address at Jersey City some months ago that "George Washington's soldiers stole anything they could lay their hands on" Senator Sherman demanded to know how he could "blame the Haywoods and the Townleys when they deliver diatribes against soldiers living when the speech of the secretary of war was of the soldiers of Nebraska."

HIS INVESTMENT.

"And I want to say in closing, if anything should happen to me, let's have no mourning in spirit or in dress. Like a Liberty bond, it is an investment, not a loss, when a man dies for his country. It is an honor to a family and is that the time for weeping? I would rather leave my family rich in pleasant memories of my life than numbed in sorrow at my death."

What man can read this extract from a letter written by Lieutenant Ely, one of our own Illinois boys, who has been killed in action and feel no touch of shame that he has not bought in his full limit of Liberty bonds in the Third loan? What man can read these lines and feel content in the little bit he has done in aiding his country in the great war?
What man can read this touching request and feel no stirring tug of pride that he lives in a nation which produces such man as this?
Lieutenant Ely's letter, perhaps, is the most wonderful sermon that has come out of the war. It breathes the very spirit of loyal patriotism. It compels attention from all because of its sincerity.

It is one of the few letters written by men at the front which will live to be quoted by orators in patriotic addresses.

KARL MARX CENTENARY.

Socialists throughout the world have set aside Sunday for observ-was born in the old German town of Treves, March 5, 1818, and studied at the universities of Bonn and Berlin. In his youth he turned to journalism and soon became prominent as a contributor to the radical political newspapers. His ideas ran afoul of those of the Prussian government and soon he was obliged to leave his native land and find a home in Paris.

During the greater part of the remainder of his life he continued to live in exile, either in Paris or in London with his friend Engels. Marx, in 1847, drew up the "Communist Manifesto," which is the earliest public declaration of international democratic socialism. It was addressed to the laboring classes of all nations. His remarkable book "Das Kapital," written mainly during Marx's residence in England, is a criticism of the modern industrial system as exemplified in England.
The first volume was published in 1867, the second and third edited by Engels in 1885 and 1894.

COMMUNITY HIGH SCHOOL QUESTIONS.

The question of community high school for Jacksonville is one which is now a matter of foremost interest and people are looking for information upon the subject.
Most people have thus far formed no decided opinion and are simply seeking for light upon the subject. Elsewhere in this paper appears an article by Julian P.
Lippincott, president of the Jacksonville board of education, in which he outlines arguments against the proposal to build a community high school. A report of the discussion which took place at David Prince building last night is also printed in this paper.
A reader of the Journal yesterday sent in the following written questions asking that they be answered as a matter of information.

Question. Could the high school fire insurance be used in building a community high school?

Answer. No.

Question. How could the fire insurance money be used?

Answer. The money from insurance could be used for betterments in other school buildings of the city or consumed in the operating expenses of the schools instead of raising so large a sum from taxation.

Question. If the community high school should be built could the city school board levy the same amount of taxes for the city schools as they do now?

Answer. Yes. The school board would have the right to levy the same amount of taxes.

Question. Would the taxes for the community high school be additional to present school taxes?

Answer. Taxes for the community high school would be in addition to taxes then levied in support of the ward schools.

er clothing; Knoles.

PROFIT IN WAR GARDEN

Yield 92 Cents an Hour for the Spare Time of Workers in Ohio —Pamphlets at Public Library on How to Fight Insect Pests.

The Official Bulletin published daily at Washington under the order of the President of the U. S. by the committee on public information has an interesting note in the issue received in Jacksonville yesterday. The Department of Agriculture is responsible for the record of one of the large manufacturing concerns in Ohio.
This concern provided gardens for its employees in 1917 and required them to keep accurate record of their time spent in their gardens and value of crop grown.

At the end of the season the results showed that the gardeners had received 92 cents an hour for their spare time spent in the gardens.

Another large manufacturing concern in Illinois plowed up a prize forty acre alfalfa field and divided it into garden plots for the use of its employees. The results obtained from these garden plots far exceeded the expectations of the company and its employees.

Manufacturers all over the country are providing gardens for their employees this year according to the reports of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The Public Library has a number of copies of the pamphlet, "War Gardening by Corporation." Now ready for circulation. Another interesting new pamphlet is "Vegetable Gardening by Communities and Neighborhoods." These are issued by the National War Garden Commission.

A woman called at the Public Library this week for a recipe for Bordeaux mixture and she was very pleased with the stock of pamphlets on how to fight insect pests and blights. These first warm days bring near the realization of the necessity for the protection of the gardens from these pests.

RIPPLING RHYMS

By Walt Mason

A Birthday.

Some empty years ago today I showed up on this planet, where northern streamlets dash their way between tall hills of granite.
I'm growing old in count of years, that much I am allowing; but I am chipper as the steers that Adam used for plowing. If you'd convince me I am old, you'd have to bring the papers; for I am gay, my step is bold, and I cut fancy capers. "Men often say, "You look so young! Your youth is scarcely civil; the rest of us by age are stung—why don't you beard and shrivel?" And I reply, "The world's a joke and life a transient flurry, and all our troubles end in smoke, so I refuse to worry. To me care looks like twenty cents, I throw it to the foxes; it's worry ages dimes and cents, and puts them in their boxes. Oh, worry will not heal a sore, there is no balm in weeping, so while you fellows walk the floor, I put in mine hours sleeping. And here I am all sound and hale, and fit and port and able; I take a bullock by the tail and throw it o'er the stable." Today I celebrate my birth with flares and Roman candles, while sighs reach round the earth; brought forth by Teuton vandals.
If tears would drown a single foe, I'd make a moist beginning; but I'm an ill is healed by woe, and so I keep on grinning.

A VALUABLE SCHOLARSHIP.

President Rammelkamp made announcement that the chapel exercises every morning of a scholarship available at the Junior Plattsburg Camp on Lake Champlain for a student of the College.
This offer is being made to each of the colleges and universities of the United States whose president is a member of the Advisory Board of the Junior Plattsburg.
The scholarship will have a value of $250, providing both tuition and room and board at the camp.
The college authorities will practically have the privilege of designating the student who is to hold the scholarship, as their recommendation will probably be adopted by the Directors of the Camp.
The applicant for the scholarship must be at least 20 years of age.

The camp is limited to boys from 15 to 21 years of age. Over 600 boys were enrolled in the camp last summer. The United States government has designated eleven young men from the West Point Military Academy to assist the United States army officers who are to give instruction in the camp. The government is also sending a number of men from the Marine corps, who have passed the examination for commissions, to the Junior Plattsburg for their final training in certain mechanical branches.

The camp has perhaps a special interest for Jacksonville people since Professor Edward Capps, son of the late Stephen R. Capps, and an alumnus of Illinois College is the president of the Junior Plattsburg camp.

IRISH VALIANT IN DAYS OF CIVIL WAR

Captain J. M. Swales Finds Lessons in Patriotic Action in Days of Rebellion—Address Made at Routt College.

Speaking at Routt College Friday afternoon, Capt. J. M. Swales told eloquently the part that Irishmen took in the war of the Rebellion. He mentioned some notable leaders of Irish nationality who took part in that great conflict.
The address was enthusiastically received.

The Union army in the days of the Sixties was the most cosmop-opolitan army that was ever organized. It was men from nearly all nationalities, and nearly all shades of color and condition, but the one supreme idea that predominated the mighty combination was to save the Union, and strike the bolt from treason's hand, and forever place the seal of condemnation on the right of any state to secede from the Union, as established by our fathers.
It was a Herculean task, and cost rivers of blood and countless millions in treasure. It was a far cry from Fort Sumter to Appomattox and the blood of 400,000 loyal men of the north marked the long trail. More than 2,000 battles were fought during the great fra-tridical strife in the valleys and mountains and on the plains of the sunny south.

When, on the 15th day of April, 1861, the immortal Lincoln sounded the tocsin of war, calling for 75,000 volunteers to suppress a slaveholders' rebellion, men of all nationalities responded, and in the rush to fill the ranks none did so more promptly or more heroically than did the sons of the green isle where "The Shannon flows on its way to the sea," and where the shamrock graces the clear old soil of historic race as ever fought for a righteous cause. Their valor was especially in evidence during the mighty contest between human bondage and freedom in the dark days of the early sixties. Sons of Erin were to be found in all departments, divisions and all organizations, and many of the great leaders of that race won a niche in the Hall of Fame where their record is written in letters of living light, and will grow brighter with the on-coming years. Illinois gave to the state and the nation many illustrious Irishmen, among them Col. James A. Mulligan, of the 34th Illinois Infantry, a regiment composed of Irishmen from the colonel down to the humblest private. He and his grand old regiment immortalized themselves in the historic defense of Lexington, Mo., in September, 1861, when they were finally compelled to surrender to an overwhelming force of the enemy.

Knew No Such Word as Fail.

Later the regiment was transferred to the Army of the Potomac and made a gallant record and was ever to be found where Old Glory pointed the way. In one of the desperate battles in Virginia, July 24, 1864, Col. Mulligan fell mortally wounded, and died in the hands of the enemy, and a gallant soul passed on to fame's eternal campfire. Ground there was Colonel Michael K.
Lawler, of the 18th Illinois, whose intrepid valor is a brilliant part of Illinois history. And the boys of his old regiment were of the same calibre, and knew no such word as fail when the bugle sounded the advance. The 90th Illinois was called the "Irish Legion" and Timothy O'Meara was the colonel of that fighting organization.

In memorial hall at the state capitol are the blood stained colors of that regiment—side by side Old Glory and the Green Banner with the Harp of Erin on its folds are furlled, mute testimonials of the heroism of those who followed them in the great crusade for human liberty. I speak of these colors with their history, and had charge of the old battle flags of Illinois for twelve years. And there were Colonel James S. Rearden of the 29th, Patrick Burke of the 66th, and many others too numerous to mention. Major General James Shields was another famous son of the Emerald Isle and an adopted son of Illinois. He won immortal renewal on the Plains of Mexico, where his blood crimsoned the soil around Cerro Gordo. He lived to take part in the civil war, and was the only Union general that ever whipped "Stonewall" Jackson to a standstill. His record is indelibly written in the pages of Illinois history as a mighty factor in the military and political annals of Grand Old Illinois. He had the proud distinction of having served as United States Senator from three different states, Illinois, Minnesota and Missouri.

Visited This City in Seventies

In that respect he stands alone.
Do you know that that great patriot and statesman visited your town, and lectured here along in the late seventies? I remember the occasion quite well, for I had the honor of escorting him from the Dunlap House to the Grand Opera House as commander of the Old Jacksonville Light Guards.

I felt proud of having had that honor, and it is a pleasant memory that will linger with me till I cross the great divide. With him was a man to compare with those days, for it was synonymous with honesty and integrity in all the walks of life. It would take a large volume to contain the history of men of Irish birth and Irish descent who have participated in the upbuilding of Illinois.
Their name is legion, and their esquech is without stain, and their loyalty to our institutions is without question, and Irish anarchists are as scarce as snowballs in Gehenna.

And they fight like hell, and have the faculty of not knowing when they are whipped. Did you ever read "Sheridan's Ride"? If not, read it, and get an idea of the heroism of that larrikin soldier who routed the rebel hosts at "Winchester, Twenty Miles Away." He was one of the greatest fighters that ever flashed a blade on the field of battle. He and his rough riders cleaned up the Shenandoah valley so completely that a crow would have had to take his haversack with him if he started to cross where Sheridan rode. From colonel of the 2d Michigan cavalry, at the beginning of the war, he rose to the rank of lieutenant general, and did more to round up Lee's hosts at Appomattox than any other one man who forced the surrender of the banner of the Lost Cause on that far off April day in '65. And as the Sons of Erin fought, bled and died in those days that tried men's souls, so today, their descendants are on the fringe line in France, Flanders and Belgium, defending the cause for which their ancestors perished on the bloody fields of the civil war.

Unparalleled Ruthlessness

Some of them are your neighbors, some of them are mine.
Think as I speak of my neighbors Leo Clancy and Charles Devlin and there are many others. Many windows along our streets display the service flag which means that there is a vacant chair in that home and its former occupant is "over there" fighting for the priceless heritage of world wide democracy and universal freedom. They are standing between the Prussian Beast and your homes, yourselves, and all that you hold dear, sacred and sanctified, and the purity of wives and daughters. They are fighting a foe whose ruthlessness and frightfulness has no parallel in all the world's history, and spreading the very abomination of desolation where once reigned peace, and plenty, and happy homes, and the only way to keep the crimson tide of war from sweeping our fair land, is to stand by them, with them, and for them, to the last dollar and every ounce of patriotism in this land of the free and the home of the brave.

To lose the war means to lose all, and Columbia will lose her place in the sun as the brightest gem in all the grand galaxy of nations. We cannot, must not lose, for our cause is the cause of the lowly Nazarene who perished on the cross that all men might be free. Under the banner of the cross and the Starry Banner of liberty, our boys will march on to victory, and a world of cleansed fire and sword will be made safe for freedom, democracy and human habitation.

Write Words of Optimism

Above all when you write letters to the boys "over there," or "over here," or wherever they may be, write words of cheer and optimism, and don't use words shrouded in gloom and pessimism.
Write of the glad day when you expect to see them returning from a foreign land with the laurel wreath of victory crowning brows that have passed through the furnace and scourge of war, back into God's country. Most of them will come back, just as I returned from the blood stained fields of the war of the Sixties more than a half century ago, and a grateful nation will greet them with the laurel plaudits they have earned in the greatest war, and for the greatest cause in the annals of time. The old banner we of the Sixties placed in their hands will come back with a new lustre added to its shining folds, and the stars in its blue field will glitter with added brilliance, for it is the "Flag of the free heart's hope and home."

From angels' hands to valor given,
Its stars have lit the welkin dome And all its hues were born in heaven."

Those of us who are not able to go "over the top" can "keep the home fires burning" while our boys are on the firing line. We must not only talk patriotism, but act in a patriotic manner by doing anything and everything that will sustain and hearten the men who are bearing the heat and burden of war on the field, in the trenches, on the water, under the water or in battling above the clouds. We must conserve our resources to the limit in order that our soldiers may be kept physically fit to withstand the hardships before them. We must give, give, and give again, and again, and buy thrift stamps and liberty bonds, and do everything in our power to strengthen our cause till victory crowns our arms. Failure to do this at this critical time may mean that our boys' conquests may call on America for a war indemnity that would stagger the imagination. So "let us hang together now, let we hang separately" after the curtain falls on the great drama of a world war.
"United we stand; divided we fall."

I thank you for the honor you have conferred upon me, and also for your attention, and ask your indulgence for taking up so much of your time.

Why Kidneys Kill

Because they are diseased. Two sound active kidneys are necessary for sound health. They must act as filters, cleansing the blood of the poisonous waste matter taken up in its course through the body.

When the kidneys are sound and active they do their filtering work perfectly. When they are weak and diseased they fail to do their task, and the whole human body suffers from this poisonous blood.

FOLEY KIDNEY PILLS are just what is needed to make over weak, ailing, aching kidneys into strong, healthy active ones.

Start taking Foley Kidney Pills today, and backache, lame back, stiff swollen joints, dull weary headaches and tired-all-over feeling will quickly pass away. Regular kidney and bladder action, clean blood, good health, sound sleep, and no more dull weary pains in the head, will be your sure reward.

Your druggist sells them. Remember the name Foley Kidney Pills.

They are the best.

The dance given in Knights of Columbus hall Friday evening for the benefit of Passavant hospital laundry fund was a success in every way. It was estimated that 500 tickets were sold and over two hundred people enjoyed the dance program.

Knights of Columbus hall had been handsomely decorated for the occasion, lilacs being used in the decorations. When guests entered the hall they were given a cordial greeting. Those in the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Felix E. Farrell, Dr. and Mrs. J. G. Ames, Dr. Grace Dewey, Miss Kimmel and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Alexander.

Before the beginning of the grand march the company standing sang America. The march was led by Mr. and Mrs. Felix E. Farrell and some pretty figures shown, the finale being the forming of the letter P, indicating Passavant. Mrs. William Barr Brown, Jr., then sang a verse of "Over There," the company joining in the chorus.

At the hall the committee in general charge was composed of Mrs. E. W. Brown and Mrs. W. L. Alexander. Felix E. Farrell was floor manager. A refreshment committee with Mrs. C. L. Mathis as chairman served refreshments during the evening. C. F. Ehnie was in charge of the tickets. Randall's orchestra furnished music.

For those who did not care to dance there were other forms of amusement and the event proved not only successful but enjoyable as well.

The fifth in the series of noon-day conferences of Y. M. C. A. campaign workers was held yesterday. The report of subscriptions shows a total of $3,360. This sum is not quite 50 per cent of the total amount to be secured and some lively work is necessary. It was announced yesterday that the team workers now are at liberty to solicit subscriptions from anybody without confining their activities to the original allotment of names. Copies of a complete list of contributors will be found at the Y. M. C. A. today and it is hoped that the team members will consult these lists and then solicit any persons whose names do not appear and whom they think will be at all likely to contribute.

It is hoped further that some persons not now team members interested in the general rally will make a point of asking one or two friends to aid in this very necessary campaign. In order to keep the work of the Y. M. C. A. supported abroad it is wholly necessary that the home institution be kept in working order. The local Y. M. C. The April total of the sale of War Stamps and Thrift Stamps for Morgan county, according to figures announced last night by Postmaster Ralph I. Dunlap, shows the splendid total value of $109,209. For the five months period the stamp sales throughout the county total very close to the $200,000 mark. The figures from Franklin for April are especially interesting, showing the great activity in that community, where the total sales have reached $20,223.75, almost a third as much as the sales value in Jacksonville. The figures by months for the past five months are given together with a detailed agency statement for the month of April.

COLORIED MEN CAN ENLIST IN ARTILLERY

Local Recruiting Officer Makes Arrangement with Peoria Office Regarding Enlistment of Patriotic Colored Men.

Sergeant Stirling stated to a Journal reporter Friday evening that it was now possible for him to accept the enlistment of colored men in regular army service. The sergeant is recruiting officer for that branch of the service with headquarters at Armory Hall.

Captain Mitchell of Peoria, in charge of the local station, was a visitor at the city yesterday and after a conference with the captain arrangements were made whereby all colored mechanics, automobile or otherwise, can enlist in the United States artillery.

The sergeant has had a number of applications for enlistment from colored men during the last few weeks and for this reason brought the matter up with Captain Mitchell last night. Any colored applicant wishing to enter the artillery, regular army, as a mechanic, should see Sergeant Stirling at Armory Hall at once. The sergeant will then forward their name to the Peoria office, which will secure special authority for their induction into service.

It is the intention now to alternate the local recruiting station with that at Beardstown every week. Sergeant Stirling expects to be on duty in Beardstown next week, and the following week the local station will be opened again at Armory Hall.

The enlistment office is open in all branches of the service to white applicants. Especial need is being emphasized regarding men for tank service. Men familiar with driving cars and mechanics are urged to consider this branch of the service.

ACCOUNTING ASKED IN STRAWN ESTATE AFFAIR

Action Brought By Administrator Refers to Agreement Made in 1912—Other Suits Filed On Last Day of Service.

One of the most important suits filed for the May Term of the circuit court was that placed on the docket yesterday. This is a bill of complaint brought in the name of Gates Strawn, administrator, vs. Henry Oakes, et al. Attorneys for the complainant are Logan Hay Edwards, Brockhouse and Wilson & Butler. The bill calls for an accounting by Henry Oakes, John R. Robertson and A. A. Curry as trustees.

It is indicated that in December, 1912, Julius Strawn and other directors of the Jacksonville National bank signed an agreement covering obligations to the extent of about $500,000. This was to cover certain business procedures necessary in the closing of the affairs of the bank and Messrs. Oakes, Curry and Robertson were named trustees to carry out the terms of the settlement agreed upon. Subsequently in 1914 Julius E. Strawn, one of the parties to the agreement, died and Gates Strawn became the administrator of the estate. It is set forth in the bill that the trustees have made no accounting to the estate of Julius Strawn and that furthermore, various provisions in the agreement referred to, need the construction of the court, especially as related to various transactions between John R. Robertson and the late Julius Strawn.

Other Suits

Friday was the final day for service and C. W. Boston, circuit clerk, kept the court open until the usual hour in concluding docket entries. Suits entered on the final day are listed below:

J. W. Whorton, as administrator of the estate of M. Whorton, by Worthington, Reeve & Green brought suit on appeal against J. E. Whorton as administrator of the estate of Louis A. Nergenah. A claim for $187 is involved. J. E. Pires and Samuel Nunes as executors, by J. O. Priest, brought a suit in assumpsit vs. W. L. Alexander. Five hundred dollars is the amount alleged to be due.

The suit of J. E. Pires vs. the estate of William Nunes was brought in the circuit court by Worthington, Reeve & Green on appeal from the county court. There is an action in which a claim of Mr. Pires against the Nunes estate for $19,358.32 was disallowed by a jury.

W. N. Hairgrove is attorney for Mrs. Lizzie Clayton in an action vs. Robert Clayton. This is a friendly proceeding and for the purpose of declaring a resultant trust.

H. P. Samuel brought a partition suit in the name of Nellie Robinson vs. W. H. and Nina Robinson.

A WIDE CIRCLE.

Thursday, Messrs. Mathis, Kamm & Shibe were comparing notes at the new of customers they had served from White Hall, Virginia, Ashland, Roodhouse, Ardenville, New Berlin, Springfield, Meredosia and Bluffs in addition to the strangers whose residences were unknown to them. In this case it happened that some member of the firm knew the residents referred to. This shows that a desirable place Jacksonville is for trading. Doubtless other stores could equal this record as some of them were well enough acquainted with surrounding towns. People are finding out what attractions Jacksonville merchants have and are availing themselves of them.

A BUSY MAN.

It is to be hoped that Rev. W. E. Collins, the newly called pastor of the Congregational church, will get acquainted in Jacksonville before long. So far this week he has attended and taken part in fourteen gatherings and it hasn't been an especially good time for gatherings either. Possibly next week he will do a little better. It would be a pity if the people did not let him find them out and get acquainted.

A COMMUNITY HIGH SCHOOL?

(By Julian P. Lippincott.)

The question of organizing a community high school district is before the people. It is to be voted upon Saturday, May 11. A great many people imagine that the community high school is in some way progressive and because they think it progressive they assume it is their thing to be desired and voted for.

The board of education, as such, takes no part in the matter. The individual members will be free to vote. But, so far as attempting to influence the result, they will not, as members, have any choice. Let the people do as they please.

The writer, notwithstanding his position as president of the board of education, has distinct views, personally, and as a citizen and taxpayer he feels at liberty to call attention to some features of the question which, if fully understood, he imagines may have some bearing. Not, then, as an individual, he presents these facts for your consideration. He would be only too glad to be legislated out of responsibility.

1—The fund of $91,600.00 arising from insurance belongs to District No. 117, and is not available for a community high school district. Such a district would be a separate affair.

2—The present site of the ruins of our high school building would not be available for a community high school. The community high school district, like any other district, would select its own site and in the same way, by vote.

Where do you suppose the site would be? You recognize a one-half acre conception of a community high school, as distinct from our high school, as an enlarged affair with ample grounds for experimental farming and other needs. To obtain a site suitable for these purposes you must go to the outskirts. When you have several sites in contemplation, that site which can rally a majority of the voters will become the location of the building. If no site has a majority, the board of education of the community high school district will select the site. Now can you guess what would happen? One thing you know. The present high school and all its traditions would be history—the school extinct; the traditions fast fading history.

3—The laws have been in the vesting at the same time and year now have reached a scattered condition. One law now provides that any pupil in the county may attend a high school, if ready, at the expense of the taxpayers. All the county not in a high school district is made into a non-high school district. Officers are elected and a tax provided to raise funds with which to pay the tuition. The taxing power is limited to 1 per cent. In practice the tax levied for 1917 is one-tenth of 1 per cent.

The other law provides that several districts may band together and form a high school district. The spirit of this law is to provide a high school in the vicinity where no one district is able to support a high school. It is not intended for a populous district, with a high school already established, to make use of this law for the purpose of attaching an outlying territory and taxing the same. While the letter of the law is pointed at as plain, I venture the suggestion that the higher courts are often more influenced by the spirit than by the letter of the law. While it would be impudent in the writer to assume to predict that the courts will decide that District No. 117 may not thus override the surrounding territory, it may still be suggested that there is such a possibility. The law is a growth and in its earlier stages it seems to be assumed that the territory to be formed into a high school district has no high school, or, that no one district is sufficiently populous to control. It is at least worth considering whether about this phase of the situation to suggest a caution.

4—If the community plan shall not carry, the board of education can immediately proceed to form and carry out plans for rebuilding. In doing this every modern improvement adapted to the situation can be employed and a building erected that will accommodate the district with all the educational facilities appropriate to our condition.

On the other hand, if the community plan shall carry, our high school will be thereby legislated out of existence. The teachers will be, ipso facto, discharged. True, a community high school will be organized as soon as practicable. But how soon will that be? The election is called for May 11. If the proposition carries, another election for a board of five members will be required in the course of a month. That board will be required to organize within ten days thereafter. It will then take time to select a suitable principal and corps of teachers. It will take time to make temporary arrangements, if temporary arrangements should be made, for high school accommodations. It will be well into midsummer, if the community plan shall be adopted, before definite, temporary arrangements can be so

AFTER THE I. W. S.
 Yesterday morning two determined men passed thru the city in the Ford car on their way from Toledo, Ohio, to Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. In conversation with a Journal reporter the gentlemen said they were members of the Flint Glass Workers' Union and were on their way to Oklahoma City to look after some trouble.

Some I. W. S. who are trying to foment discord in the ranks of the glass workers at Oklahoma City. They said the establishment there was manufacturing glass burial caskets as the excessive cost of steel made such receptacles for the dead very expensive and glass made just as good an article and at a much lower cost.

One of the heavy stockholders in the company is a son of Golden Rule Jones ex-mayor of Toledo, and a wide awake man. The travelers, Messrs. Walter Rampl and Herman Ufer, said they were to take charge of the interests of the union at Oklahoma City and see that the pestiferous I. W. S. didn't do any more mischief. They looked as if they would carry out their intentions.

Defeat Cincinnati by Overcoming Three Run Lead in Ninth Inning—Giants Have Little Trouble with Braves—Other Games.

Chicago, May 3.—Chicago won its seventh straight game today by defeating Cincinnati 9 to 8. The locals played an uphill battle overcoming the lead of the visitors but lost this advantage when Hendrix lost control of the ball in the eighth inning walking four men. This coupled with two hits and a sacrifice gave Mathewson's men four runs and the lead.

Zeider started the locals on their way to victory in the ninth batting for Weaver he drew a pass and was permitted to steal second and third. Hollocher walked and Black singled, sending Zeider home. Two more hits, a force out and an error netted three more runs and gave Chicago the game.

 Boston, May 3.—New York bunched hits off Nehf in the first and fifth innings today, each time scoring two runs, and made a fifth in the seventh on Benton's pass and Kauff's triple, New York winning 5 to 1. Boston went into last place as a result of the defeat.

The allround playing of Ross Young was spectacular. It was his first game in this city. Pitcher Rudolph of the Boston team conferred with Manager Stallings and President Haughton here today, but the three reached no agreement and Rudolph said he would go back to his home tomorrow morning. ## COMMUNITY HIGH SCHOOL IS DISCUSSED Arguments for and Against Heard at Parent-Teacher Meeting at David Prince School—T. W. Callihan Said Teachers Were Leaving Work Because of Poor Salaries.

The High school and David Prince schools parent-teacher association had a joint meeting in the David Prince building for the purpose of discussing the community high school question. Some excellent music was furnished by the high school orchestra and the David Prince school chorus sang most acceptably.

Mrs. J. Marshall Miller called the meeting to order and announced Supt. H. A. Perrin as the first speaker. Of what he said and of all the others a short outline is given.

H. A. Perrin Mr. Perrin said as he was the head of the city public schools he hardly thought it proper for him to express his personal views and he would therefore confine himself to stating the arguments pro and con which he had heard. Our country is not led by autocratic rule but is based on independent thought. Our city high school building was burned March 14th and 400 pupils deprived of a place of instruction.

The proposed territory and its taxable property have been described. There are several objects in view in the proposition of a community high school.

One is to get enough territory to secure a large enough number of pupils to make a good high school.

To get more money for high school purposes. The law provides that 3 per cent may be levied of the people so vote.

Many farm lands are enhanced in value by being near the city and the owners should help pay the taxes of the city.

In some states a two year junior college course is a part of the high school curriculum. Several such are in this state. This would be objectionable here as competing with our local colleges.

A fine plant would be available if the community high school district voted the 3 per cent tax but against it is urged the difficulty of a suitable site as it would have to be in the outskirts and this would require attendance by many impossible. If the building were placed on the old site there would be room for friction between the two boards, that of the community high school and that of the public school managing the David Prince school.

If we have the community high school we can vote enough money to build for the future and have a fine plant. Against this is the argument that a city high school building can be erected with definite plans for enlargement and the present is no time for great and expensive buildings. We now have in the David Prince building a gymnasium, baths and other facilities while a community high school for 600 or more pupils would cost, some say as high as $600,000 to $750,000.

The present site can be used for a new city high school building and what is needed above the insurance money can be had by taxation or a bond issue. If the community high school building is erected only $120,000 can be raised by taxation and all the rest will have to be by bond issue. Will the people vote such a bond issue?

A community high school should be built because the city cannot pay enough salaries to get and keep good teachers. Reply: other cities have voted to increase their levy from 1.5 to 2 percent and accomplish the end. Some cities have built community high schools recently; Bloomington and others.

If we ever are to get a larger high school territory now is the suitable time to try it. Children then in all this territory may have high school privileges and trade will largely be drawn to Jacksonville in consequence. Reply: Children in all the county may now attend high school at the expense of their district and people within a radius of five miles will trade in Jacksonville anyway as much as if there was a community high school.

No other plan offers an opportunity to secure so much money for a high school as this as the 3 per cent levy would mean much cash. Reply: It is too costly and people would not vote it.

DILL SENTENCED TO 14 YEARS AT HARD LABOR

Murderer of Charles Southwell Will Be Sent to Chester Penitentiary—Crime Committed at Winchester Last Fall Was One of Most Cold Blooded Murders in Annals of Scott County—Other Items of Interest.

Winchester, May 3.—William Dill was brought before Judge Smith in the Circuit Court here today and pleaded guilty to the murder of Charles Southwell. He was sentenced to fourteen years of hard labor and ordered taken to Chester penitentiary. The crime occurred last fall in Winchester. Southwell, one of the prominent and respected land owners of Scott county, owned the building in which Dill lived. Dill had threatened Southwell's life on a number of occasions, but the latter paid little heed to the threats, as Dill had been practically an invalid for a number of years and Southwell was unafraid of him. However, on the day the shooting occurred, Southwell was taking leaves in the yard when Dill appeared at a second story window and shot Southwell dead. It was some little time after this before the people who were drawn to the scene by the gun shot were able to remove the body as Dill remained at the window with the gun and threatened all who approached. He did not shoot and narrowly missed killing several in the effort to keep the crowd back. Finally, however, he was induced to permit the removal of the injured man and gave himself up. Southwell was taken to a hospital in Springfield for treatment, but died about a week later. Since the shooting Dill has been confined in the jail here. Today he had to be carried upstairs to the court room and has for a long time gotten about in a wheel chair. He appeared the happiest person in the court room, laughing and joking, and seemed to enjoy the whole transaction immensely. At his age, 65 years, it is not considered probable that he will outlive his sentence, especially in view of his physical condition.

VIRGINIA PEOPLE NOT IN PORK BUSINESS

Story About Pigs in City Yards is Just Newspaper Fiction.

Some residents of Virginia object to the following news item, which appeared under a Virginia date line in the Springfield News-Record. In this story it is intimated that Virginia people in general are increasing pork production will raise swine in their front or back yards, in fact, that "everybody is doing it." Here is the item:

"Virginia—The lowly porker has come into its own in this city. Residents of Virginia are going as to put the 'pork' in trim to whip the kaiser. Everyone who can find young pigs for sale will grow pork in the town's back yards, and the limit to the amount of pork raised here this year will only be the number of young pigs the farmers will sell."

One Virginia resident has written the Journal that he is at a loss to know where the Springfield paper secured the information as an inquiry shows no swine raisers within the city limits of Virginia. In fact, that Virginia man quoted and others are of the opinion that such a plan, while it might indicate the patriotism of the city people, would simply serve to handicap the whole proposition, for pigs will do much better on the farm than they can on small city lots. Since the purpose of the greater swine production program is to produce more pork quickly and get it to market, there seems to be much in the theory that the best place for the hogs to get their growth quickly is out on the farm. Then there is that other fact that has no relation to the war, that the hog lots smell better at a distance than they do in the close environment of a city.
